4 PROJECT SCOPE & DELIVERABLES

4.1 BACKGROUND

The City of Rossland does not currently have a Recreation Master Plan. There have been a series of other reports, task forces and public input projects recently rolled out to provide some preliminary background information to facilitate the creation of the Recreation Master Plan. Also included are other City-wide guiding documents for further background information. These documents are linked below:

4.2 THE COMMUNITY

Located approximately halfway between Vancouver and Calgary on Highway 3B, only 6 km north of the U.S. border, Rossland boasts a glowing reputation as a highly desirable location in which to plant roots. Rossland’s beginnings are linked to the discovery and mining of rich gold deposits in the surrounding mountains. The first claims were staked in 1890 and the next few years saw the arrival of more prospectors and miners exploring the potential wealth for future underground mining operations. With a population of 3,729, no traffic lights or sprawling malls, the City of Rossland is really a small town. But back in 1897 when tremendous gold finds lured thousands of people, Rossland incorporated.

Nestled in the mountains at an elevation of 1023 meters, Rossland is one of Canada's highest cities. With an average annual snowfall of 750 centimetres (300") at Red Mountain, Rossland has a renowned reputation for powder skiing and has produced some of Canada's best ski racers. Rossland offers mountain bikers and hikers hundreds of kilometers of trails, all radiating from the centre of town.

4.3 PROJECT SCOPE & DELIVERABLES

- In consultation with the proponent, make any final adjustments to the Terms of Reference.
- To establish a consultative process with all stakeholders including the Sinixt, the Lower Kootenay Band, the Ktunaxa Band, general public, user groups, elected officials, commissions, boards, regional service providers and recreation staff. The consultative process must use the Framework for Recreation in Canada 2015: Pathways to Wellbeing to guide gathering community values.
- Produce and manage a random sample survey(s) in sufficient size to ensure accepted statistical standards of reliability and validity for our population of approximately 4,300 residents. The scope of work includes the development of general demographic data which will assist in determining needs and priorities for current services and determining support for identified gaps in programming and indoor and outdoor facilities. The survey shall evaluate need and gaps in unstructured/spontaneous activity versus structured activity in the community and region. In consultation with the City of Rossland, the proponent shall be responsible for the production of the survey instrument, including layout, structure and wording of the questionnaire in order to elicit public response to current and future community leisure and cultural needs. The proponent shall consolidate the data and formulate reports.

The City is open to alternative ways to gather public input. The proponent could include optional methodology. However, no additional funding will be provided for this undertaking.

- Conduct a written survey/interview of City of Rossland, Rossland Museum and Discovery Centre, Rossland Library, School District No. 20 staff through a similar survey instrument with separate results from the public survey. Provide summary data of the survey.
- Conduct a written survey/interview of approximately 25-30 community groups/special interest groups through a similar survey instrument with separate results from the public survey. Provide summary data of the survey.
- Conduct a written survey/interview of City of Rossland, School District No. 20, RDKB chair and trustees through a similar survey instrument with separate results from the public survey. Provide summary data of survey.
- Produce a consolidated report and executive summary on the results of the public survey. This report will be used as an appendix to the final Recreation Master Plan document.
- To identify current and future demographics, trends and projections for the identified areas.
- To determine opportunities for partnerships. This will include, but not be limited to private local recreation service providers (RED Resort, Black Jack Ski Club, KCTS, SD20) and the City of Trail/RDKB/other regional municipalities (specifically regarding the Trail Resident Program).

- To determine past, present and future usage trends of public leisure and culture facilities, parks and trails and other outdoor recreation assets.
- Conduct a gap analysis in the provision of public leisure and culture facilities, parks and trails based on the existing inventory (community and regional), community aspirations and projected population.
- To determine if the community is willing to fund and to what level the identified gaps in the provision of public leisure and culture facilities, parks and trails.
- To detail the supply/situation analysis of current facilities and programs in relation to demand and the extent to which current facilities are being used. This includes but is not limited to Rossland community facilities, school district facilities, regional facilities, private facilities and natural assets/facilities.
- To review the current local and regional delivery system to evaluate the system's effectiveness and efficiency.
- To prepare a mission/vision and implementation strategy that prioritizes community needs and financial resources on a phased basis over a five- and ten-year time period. This will include, but not be limited to a strategy for addressing municipal recreation and culture infrastructure assets, including recommendations on the renewal, renovation, and/or replacement of infrastructure to support the delivery of recreation and cultural programming, activities and events. The mission/vision will support facility planning including conceptual options for major (pool, arena) and minor (parks, washrooms, outdoor covered areas) facilities. Included will be a prioritized implementation plan which is clear, concise, user friendly, flexible and can be used as a planning tool.
- To examine the economic feasibility, including projected capital and operating costs for recommended facilities, parks, trails and services.
- To prepare long range cost estimates for the provision of current and/or programs and facilities.
- To identify and evaluate opportunities for public/private and third sector partnership for service delivery and operating arrangements.
